

A SELECTION FOR THE ROOFTOP · MAY 2026

A WINE LIST YOUR SUNSET DESERVES.

Bottles picked for a Patong rooftop: easy by the glass, sharp enough for the wine guests, and a gin program that holds the bar.

WHO WE ARE. WHY THIS LIST WORKS.

Wine & Whiskey is a Phuket wine bar and retailer. We pour what we sell and we sell what we pour — which is why our list is built around bottles that move by the glass without losing depth on the bottle pages. For FlyO we drafted a focused selection: rooftop-friendly whites and sparklings, anchor reds for the meat side of the menu, a tight spirits program, and a pairing map for your current dishes.

WHY WORK WITH US

01

We taste before we sell.

Every position on the list is on the floor in our bar. If a wine doesn't carry by the glass, it doesn't go on your card either.

02

Glass economics, not just shelf prices.

Wholesale rates set so a 150 ml pour gives you healthy margin without scaring the guest at the menu. Five glasses to the bottle, every time.

03

One supplier, no babysitting.

Single PO, single delivery, island-wide. Reorders within 24 h. No minimum monthly volume, no exclusivity ask.

ONE GIN FAMILY. THREE COLOURS.

Barrister is a premium gin out of St. Petersburg distilled in small batches. Three expressions — Dry, Pink and Blue — cover the entire G&T menu, signature serves, and the colour-change Blue (turns pink with tonic) that earns its place on Instagram. You don't lock yourself to Bombay or Hendrick's pricing, and you get a back-bar story bartenders can actually tell.

THE OFFER

PREMIUM GIN · FULL RANGE

WHY IT WORKS ON A ROOFTOP BAR

Three pours, one supplier.

Dry runs your classic G&T. Pink leans into spritz and aperitivo hour. Blue gives bartenders a colour-change party trick — especially strong on the Instagram side of your floor program.

MARGIN LOGIC

Bonus, not discount.

The bonus bottle protects your menu pricing. Your G&T price stays where you set it; we just deliver one extra bottle every sixth one. The standard B2B rate holds after the promo.

MOQ: 1 mixed case (6 btl).

Mix: any combination of Dry / Pink / Blue.

Delivery: free, island-wide.

Lead time: 1–2 working days.

Payment: on delivery for first order.

Validity: first PO by 30 June 2026.

All prices excl. VAT. Effective price = standard price spread across paid + bonus bottles.

WHITES THAT EARN A GLASS POUR.

Your current white page is a short list anchored on a single Australian shelf. Phuket guests order whites first — especially with the seafood and sashimi sides of your menu. Below is a working glass-bottle layer (฿520–฿680) plus a Chablis ladder to give the bottle page somewhere to go.

BY THE GLASS & BOTTLE LIGHT, EASY, SELLS FAST

Italy and France in the ฿520–฿680 band. All four pour cleanly by 150 ml glass, work as aperitivo and carry across appetizers, salads and seafood. Replaces Frontera Chardonnay on the by-the-glass slot.

BOTTLE-ONLY — THE LADDER FOR THE WINE GUESTS

Two Rieslings and three Chablis at three price points. The Riesling pair carries the spice and umami in your Asian dishes; the Chablis ladder gives sommeliers and regulars somewhere to go beyond the ฿700 band.

REDS FOR THE BBQ SIDE OF THE MENU.

The current red page leans heavy and Australian — great on the bottle, harder to drink a second glass of. We'd swap the entry positions for lighter, friendlier reds (Chile and France), then keep the muscular bottles for steak and lamb. Two clear bands: a glass-friendly layer at $450–$590 and a bottle-only set for higher checks.

BY THE GLASS REPLACE FRONTERA CABERNET

Four reds priced for a 150 ml pour. The MG Estate Cabernet from Chile is the like-for-like swap on Frontera — same idea, much sharper producer. Montepulciano and Shiraz round out the variety so a table doesn't see only Cabernet on the menu.

SPARKLING IS THE SUNSET MENU.

A Patong rooftop sells more sparkling than any other category at golden hour. Today your page reads Chandon-or-Frontera — two SKUs, one of them anonymous. Below: a Prosecco trio at ฿530–฿610, a rosé pair for the spritz crowd, and a champagne pair for the celebrations on the floor.

PROSECCO & LIGHT SPARKLING FOR THE SPRITZ HOUR

Three Proseccos, three price points. Genesi is your easy by-the-glass; Astoria steps up; Palazzo Grimani is the upper-tier extra dry that pairs with the pizza page.

ITALY · VENETO
Genesi Prosecco — Pitars

Classic dry Prosecco, green apple and pear. The spritz-hour staple.

ROSÉ SPARKLING FOR SUNSET AND TOMATO SAUCE

Two distinct rosés. Abrau Durso is dry méthode-classique — the serious sparkling rosé for celebrations and oysters. Ceci Verdi is the semi-sweet Italian Lambrusco that pairs with pizza, tomato pasta and the sweeter Asian dishes on your menu.

RUSSIA · ROSÉ BRUT
Abrau Durso Reserve

Pinot-driven, structured, brioche. The champagne page anchor.

FRANCE · CHAMPAGNE
Marcel Pierre
Champagne Brut

Classic Brut, citrus and almond. The everyday-champagne tier.

IDEAL PAIRINGS FOR YOUR MENU.

We took your March 2026 menu and mapped each food page to the bottles we believe earn the pour. Menu page on the left, our pick(s) on the right. Prices are wholesale, per bottle, excl. VAT.

HOW TO READ THIS

Each row corresponds to one page of your existing menu. Wines are listed in pour-priority order: the first bottle is the “house pour” recommendation, the rest are alternates the floor team can switch to.

PREMIUM WAGYU

BEEF, FAT, UMAMI.

A5 Wagyu has buttery fat — you want lift, not weight. A light French Pinot keeps the palate clean for the next bite; a dry sparkling rosé makes it a moment.

SIZZLING LAMB & BBQ CHICKEN

THE GRILL PAGE.

Sizzling lamb wants tannin and dark fruit — Malbec or Cabernet—Carmenère. BBQ chicken sits between worlds: Malbec works, but a Pinot Noir gives it lift.

VEGETARIAN PIZZA
Tomato sauce, tomatoes, corn, tricolor bell peppers, black olives, mushrooms, mozzarella cheese.

PIZZA

TOMATO, MOZZARELLA, SMOKE.

Pizza wants a touch of sugar in the sparkling, or a soft acidic white. Extra Dry Prosecco is the classic Italian pair; Soave and Pinot Grigio cover the vegetarian and seafood-leaning slices.

SASHIMI

The art of sashimi plating is a balance between aesthetic beauty and the respectful presentation of the fish. It should make the diner's experience feel elegant and thoughtful, encouraging them to appreciate the freshness and flavor of the fish itself.

1. YELLOWTAIL SASHIMI
Five pieces of freshly sliced Raw Amberjack (Kohada).

SASHIMI

THE WINE ANSWER TO SOY AND GINGER.

Sashimi wants whites that are aromatic but not floral — you need to read the fish under the soy and wasabi. Pinot Grigio for tuna, off-dry Riesling for salmon, Chablis for the chef's sets.
